

5% p.a. Fixed Interest Dozens Savings plc Bonds Terms & Conditions

July 2020

1. About these terms

This document sets out all the terms you need to know relating to Dozens Savings plc's ("Dozens Savings") 5% p.a. fixed interest bonds (which we will refer to as Dozens bonds). The terms apply to you for the entire time that you hold Dozens bonds. The terms include those described in Parts V and VI of the NEX document in the Annex (more details below).

This document has been prepared and issued by Dozens. Dozens is a trading name of Project Imagine Ltd, which is a limited liability company registered in England and Wales, number 11153882. Our registered office address is Finsgate, 5-7 Cranwood Street, London, EC1V 9EE.

We are not a bank. Dozens is authorised by the Financial Conduct Authority as an investment firm (firm reference number 814281), and also as an electronic money institution (firm reference number 900894), and our registered information can be found on the FCA's website www.fca.org.uk.

To be eligible to buy Dozens bonds, you must:

- be resident in the UK, at least 18 years old and have a national insurance number
- pass our regulatory due diligence checks, which may include providing us with regulatory-required documentation, photographs and information as we may reasonably request
- read these terms and click to confirm acceptance with the terms, and
- not have had any previous Dozens account or other Dozens products or services closed by us.

Please note that the Dozens bonds are not regulated by the Financial Conduct Authority.

2. Bonds overview

A bond is a form of "IOU", sometimes called a debt instrument. By buying a bond you lend a bond creator (known as a bond issuer) a sum of money (known as the principal), in return for the bond issuer paying you interest. You lend the principal for a fixed period of time, and at the end of that period you have the right to get the sum you lent back.

The Dozens bonds are allocated, issued and administered by Dozens Savings plc, which is a company set up especially for issuing bonds, and is wholly owned by Project Imagine Ltd. Dozens Savings plc has a maximum issuance of up to £7 million bonds under this programme.

Each Dozens bond has a maturity of 12 months and pays interest monthly at a rate of 5% per year. This means that after you buy one or more Dozens bonds, each month you will generally receive 1/12th of 5% annual interest, and 12 months after you bought the Dozens bonds you will get your principal back. More details on interest payments are set out below.

Each Dozens bond costs £100, and the minimum you can buy is one Dozens bond. There is currently no maximum. Please see section 6 below for more information on how you can bid on and buy Dozens bonds. Please also note that Dozens bonds must be issued in programmes, and each programme has a maximum issuance amount (as set out on the front of the NEX document) which Dozens may issue over a period of time. Within each programme, for administrative purposes, Dozens bonds will be issued in blocks (also known as Tranches) which are expected to be between £100,000 up to £1,000,000 each. We will keep customers updated in the app as to new Tranches and bond programmes once a Tranche or programme has sold out.

The Dozens bonds are listed on the Aquis Stock Exchange (formerly known as the NEX Exchange Growth Market) (referred to as the NEX Exchange), a London based stock exchange. The admission document required for listing the Dozens bonds on NEX (referred to as the NEX document) is set out in the Annex to these terms. The admission document is not approved by the FCA. Listing the Dozens bonds on NEX means the Dozens bonds are “transferable”, namely that you can sell the Dozens bonds if you don’t want them anymore, and you want to receive payment for them rather than waiting to get back the principal sum you invested when the Dozens bond matures. More details on how to sell your Dozens bonds are set out below. Issuance of bonds by Dozens is conditional on the Dozens bonds being approved by NEX for admission to their exchange.

When you buy Dozens bonds, you are lending Dozens Savings plc a sum of money (the principal), and in turn Dozens Savings plc agrees to pay you a fixed interest sum. Dozens Savings plc places your money in a trustee-controlled account and does not use this money for any other purpose. Dozens ensures that the full 12 months interest due to you is also placed into the trustee-controlled account.

If you choose to keep the Dozens bond until maturity, you will be entitled to receive back the principal once the 12 month maturity has been reached. You can elect whether to have the principal (and any cash in your cash savings account) reinvested by bidding on another Dozens bond (as available), or investing in another Dozens investment, or you may remove the sum to invest or use elsewhere.

Please bear in mind that if you have bought Dozens bonds as part of your ISA, if you subsequently remove money from the ISA framework and want to use this money again to purchase more ISA-related products, it will be seen as a new ISA investment. Please check carefully before moving money in and out of the ISA framework to ensure you are efficiently using your ISA allowance.

3. Interest and fees

Interest is paid to you at a rate of 5% per year, paid monthly. This means you will generally receive 1/12th of 5% annual interest each month. Under normal circumstances your bonds will be issued and admitted to the NEX Exchange on the 1st of a month. However, in some limited circumstances (for example if the 1st of the month falls on a weekend or a public holiday) your Dozens bond may be issued and admitted later in the month. Note that if your Dozens bond is issued later in the month, your first month’s interest payment will be for that whole month (rather than pro rata to the portion of the month you have held the bond). For example, if your Dozens bond is admitted on the 2nd of a month, interest will be payable on the 2nd of the next month and each other month that you hold your Dozens bond. Please note that interest payments may be slightly rounded up or down each month (depending on whether the interest due to you is a clean number) however in these cases the interest you receive in the twelfth month when your Dozens bond is repaid will be increased or reduced to ensure that you will receive 5% over the year.

On the basis you have held the Dozens bond for the complete month, you will receive an interest payment before the fifth business day of the following month.

Interest payments will be made into your cash savings account. If you have selected to hold the Dozens bond through an ISA your interest payment will be paid into the part of the cash savings account that is held within the ISA framework. Money paid into this cash savings account can be used to make other investment purchases at your direction. Note that if you deduct money from the ISA part of your cash savings account into your current account (or any other non-ISA account), it will be removed from the ISA framework.

Interest payments are made gross of tax. For Dozens bonds that you do not hold through an ISA, you will be responsible for paying any tax due on the interest earned.

Basic rate tax payers are generally able to benefit from £1,000 of tax-free income from savings (such as Dozens bonds), and higher rate tax payers can earn up to £500 of interest without paying tax. There is no allowance in the additional rate (45%) tax bracket. Otherwise please note that interest from the Dozens bonds is treated as (and therefore taxed as) income at your normal tax rates depending on your annual income level.

Any tax-free allowances must take into account all interest you earn across any financial products, not just Dozens bonds. Please note that we cannot give you financial or tax advice, and we are required to tell you by law that tax treatment (including ISA tax treatment) depends on your individual circumstances which could change in the future if your circumstances change.

There are no fee deductions from the 5% per year fixed interest rate.

4. Security

In this section we set out what protections Dozens and Dozens bonds have in place to keep your money safe.

As mentioned above, when you buy Dozens bonds your principal is placed by Dozens Savings plc in an account held with Elavon Financial Services DAC, trading as U.S. Bank Global Corporate Trust Services. The full amount of interest due to you by maturity is also placed in that account, which is controlled by the trustee for the Dozens bonds (U.S. Bank Trustees Limited). The trustee safeguards this money as security to ensure that you will not be out of pocket in the unlikely event that Dozens Savings plc defaults on its obligations to pay you the interest or the principal amount repayable once the 12 month maturity has been reached. For example, if you buy a Dozens bond for £100, your £100 plus the interest (£5) (so £105 in total) will be placed in the trustee-controlled account.

The trustee is appointed to act on behalf of bondholders, not on behalf of Dozens. The trustee has instructions to ensure that it safeguards your investment plus interest, so that the principal and interest is properly paid to you.

The arrangement put in place with the trustee is called a security package.

Dozens is an investment firm authorised by the FCA. Please note however that the Dozens bonds themselves (as with all investments) are not products that are covered by the Financial Services Compensation Scheme.

5. Risks

A number of risk factors are set out in Part III of the NEX document, which you should read.

In brief, these are some of the risks of buying Dozens bonds:

- Dozens is a new business and currently has no track record. However Dozens has put in place a security package, and has hired skilled service providers and employees, in its aim to run a successful bond programme.
- Dozens relies on IT technology to run the bond programme, and it is possible that such IT technology could fail. However Dozens has carried out extensive testing of the technology and has disaster recovery plans in place to guard against such circumstance.
- Dozens bonds are listed on NEX Exchange, but there is no guarantee that there will be active trading on NEX Exchange. Instead please read the section below on how to sell your Dozens bonds.
- Dozens will not provide you with financial advice nor tax advice, so you must decide for yourself if Dozens bonds are a suitable investment for you.

Dozens aims to create new bond programmes to meet demand. However there could be a delay between bond programmes being put in place.

6. How to bid on and buy Dozens bonds

We are aware that the Dozens bonds may be popular, and demand may exceed supply. Therefore we want to do what we can to ensure the 5% per year rate and accompanying protection will benefit as many people as possible.

We have designed a system where those investing smaller amounts will be given priority.

So, if you decide that buying Dozens bonds is right for you, you will need to go to the Grow section of the Dozens app and submit a “bid” for the amount of Dozens bonds that you would like to buy in a particular bond issuance. You also need to choose whether you are bidding on the Dozens bonds as part of an ISA (see separate ISA terms) or as part of a general investment account. You must pay for your Dozens bonds upfront, but your interest will not start accruing until your bid has been successful and your Dozens bonds have been issued (which is when NEX Exchange has approved the Dozens bonds being issued that month, and your order is confirmed as accepted and executed). For example, if you decide you want to buy a Dozens bond for £100 on the 14th of a month, and make payment then, if your bid is successful, you will not start accruing any interest until the Dozens bonds have been issued and admitted to the NEX Exchange at the start of the next month. You will be able to see a summary of any Dozens bonds successfully purchased in the Grow section of the Dozens app.

You can bid for Dozens bonds at any point, but please bear in mind that bids from all our customers are collected together each month and (for those successful bids) Dozens bonds are issued at the same time. We will let you know within the app, however, usually, orders must be received by the date falling on or around the 25th calendar day of each month to be received in time for the next month's Dozens bond issuance. If a low number of orders are received, we may roll over issuance to later in the month or the month after, but we will tell you if this is the case. Dozens bonds will usually be issued on the first working day of each month.

In order to determine which bids are successful for each Dozens bond issuance, we will rank bids starting with the smallest value being given highest priority. As bid sizes increase, they will be placed further down the priority list, finishing with the largest value bid being given the lowest priority. For each Dozens bond issuance, please also note that we may be required to hold back some Dozens bonds for our market maker in order to comply with its and/or our legal obligations.

The date you place a bid does not have an effect on where your bid is placed on the list, with the exception that, where bids received by us total more than the relevant issuance amount, a bid placed earliest would be given priority to a later bid for the same amount where those bids (together with all other bids) would be greater than that issuance amount.

The closing date for bids is normally on or around the 25th day of the month, however, we will confirm the applicable closing date in the Dozens app. After that date, if we have received more bids than Dozens bonds available in that issuance or programme (as relevant) we will not be able to accept all orders and will refer to the order of priority. Any bids received past the cut off point of that issuance or programme (as relevant) will be unsuccessful.

The success, or not, of your bid in any previous programme does not have any bearing on future bids.

If your bid to buy Dozens bonds is unsuccessful, you will be notified promptly, usually within 24 hours of the closing date of a Dozens bond issuance, and your money will be returned to your cash savings account on or around the working day after this closing date (so you will normally get the money back into your account within 24 hours of the applicable closing date too).

Please note that issuances are also subject to the Dozens bonds being admitted for trading by NEX Exchange.

7. How to sell Dozens bonds

You may sell Dozens bonds to Dozens at any time, for the same price as you bought them. To sell Dozens bonds to Dozens, go into your Dozens app and work through the steps to sell Dozens bonds to Dozens. Once you have completed the sale process, you will receive your principal sum into your cash savings account by the end of the next working day (usually within 24 hours).

Note that once you sell Dozens bonds you will not receive further interest payments, as you will no longer own Dozens bonds. You will also forfeit the interest payment of the month that you sell Dozens bonds, if you do not hold Dozens bonds for the complete month.

As Dozens bonds are listed, it is possible for you to sell Dozens bonds through NEX Exchange, however you may receive less money for them than the price as you bought them. You may also not find many buyers for your Dozens bonds through NEX Exchange. It will also be difficult for Dozens to keep in contact with the buyer of your Dozens bonds if they do not have the Dozens app.

8. Technical information

Once you have purchased Dozens bonds, they will appear in your app, and you can track maturity and interest payments in the app. As Dozens is an app-based business, physical bond certificates will not be posted to you (we think this is old school!) and instead the Dozens bonds are held electronically (known in the industry as dematerialised form).

An independent third party called Third Platform Services Limited is appointed to safeguard your dematerialised Dozens bonds. More details on this safeguarding can be found in the dealing & custody terms (which you will have signed up to when you first opened your Dozens account, and a copy of these can be found in the “Account” section of the “Your Profile” section of the app).

Note that if you no longer want to be a customer of Dozens at all and notify us of your intention to terminate your relationship with us, you will be required to sell your Dozens bonds to Dozens. Please see the Dozens terms & conditions in the “Account” section of the “Your Profile” section of the app for more information on how to terminate your relationship with us.

You will find a copy of these terms, the NEX document, and the summary of the terms of the particular bonds that you purchased (called the pricing supplement) in the “Account” section of the “Your Profile” section of the app.

9. Other information

Further information on the Dozens bond terms can be found in Parts V and VI of the NEX document. Information on Dozens Savings plc and its directors can be found in Part VII of the NEX document.

This document is not an approved prospectus for the purposes of Section 85(1) of Financial Services and Markets Act 2000. A copy of these terms has not been, and will not be, reviewed by the UK Listing Authority.

These terms incorporate the provisions set out in the NEX document, and the offer to you is based on the information set out in these terms and the NEX document and the pricing supplement for the Dozens bonds you apply for. If there is any difference between these terms and conditions and the NEX document and relevant pricing supplement, the provisions of the NEX document and relevant pricing supplement shall take priority as between you and Dozens Savings plc.

This contract is made with you as bondholder. No person other than the trustee shall have the right to enforce the terms of the Dozens bonds under the Contracts (Rights of Third Parties) Act 1999, but this does not affect your rights of enforcement.

These terms and any dispute or claim (and any non-contractual matters) arising from or in relation to them are governed by the law of England and Wales, and you irrevocably agree to submit to the exclusive jurisdiction of the courts of England and Wales to settle any dispute or claim (including non-contractual disputes or claims) arising out of or in connection with these terms.

10. Not happy?

We take all complaints seriously. Our services team will generally come back to you very quickly and we'll certainly acknowledge your complaint within 5 working days. After that, we will investigate your complaint and keep you informed of progress. Any complaints about us can be sent to us through any channel, but we recommend the most efficient method is via our in-app chat function. Please clearly indicate that you are wishing to make a complaint to us. This helps us to distinguish a complaint from a mere query. Our complaints procedure www.dozens.com/complaints sets out the process for submitting and resolving any complaints. You may request a copy of our complaints procedure at any time by contacting customer services.

A final response to your complaint, or a letter explaining why the final response has not been completed, will be sent to you within 15 working days of the date your complaint was made, and in exceptional circumstances, within 35 working days (and we will let you know if this is the case).

If after having received our final response you are still unhappy or not satisfied, you may, if your complaint falls within the Financial Ombudsman Service's jurisdiction, be able to take your complaint to the Financial Ombudsman Service (FOS) details of which are available on the following link www.financial-ombudsman.org.uk/contact-us . You can also call the FOS on 0800 023 4567, submit an online complaint form (available on its website) or write to: Financial Ombudsman Service at Exchange Tower, Harbour Exchange, London, E14 9SR. Further information regarding the FOS and whether you qualify for this service is available on the FOS website.

The whole of this document should be read. Investment in the Bonds involves a degree of risk and may not be suitable for all recipients of this document. Prospective investors should consider carefully whether an investment in the Bonds is suitable for them in the light of their personal circumstances. Investors may lose some or all of their investment if the Company is unable to pay the interest or principal of the Bond, although a secured cash deposit equivalent to the principal amount of the Bonds held by investors and interest payable will be made available to draw on in such circumstances.

This document (the “Base Admission Document” or the “Document”) has been drawn up to comply with the requirements of the NEX Exchange Growth Market – Rules for Issuers (“NEX Exchange Rules”) and has been prepared in connection with the proposed application for admission of bonds issued and to be issued by Dozens Savings plc (“Company”). It is not classified as a Regulated Market under EU financial services law and NEX Exchange Growth Market securities are not admitted to the Official List of the United Kingdom Listing Authority. Investment in an unlisted company is speculative and involves a higher degree of risk than an investment in a listed company. The value of investments can go down as well as up and investors may not get back the full amount originally invested. An investment should therefore only be considered by those persons who are prepared to sustain a loss on their investment. A prospective investor should be aware of the risks of investing in NEX Exchange Growth Market securities and should make the decision to invest only after careful consideration and, if appropriate, consultation with an independent financial adviser authorised under the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 who specialises in advising on the acquisition of shares and other securities.

Dozens Savings plc is required by NEX Exchange to appoint a NEX Exchange Corporate Adviser to apply on its behalf for admission to the NEX Exchange Growth Market and must retain a NEX Exchange Corporate Adviser at all times. Part I – The Bond Programme

1. Introduction

Under the 5.00% secured bond programme described in this Base Admission Document (the “Bond Programme”), Dozens Savings plc may from time to time issue secured bonds (“Bonds”) on the terms set out herein, as completed in the applicable pricing supplement (each, a “Pricing Supplement”). The aggregate principal amount of Bonds outstanding is not anticipated at any time to exceed £7,000,000.

The Bonds will be issued at par in Series (as defined in “Terms and Conditions of the Bonds”), each Series having different issue and maturity dates, but on terms otherwise identical (or identical other than in respect of the first payment of interest). Each Series may be issued in Tranches (as defined in “Terms and Conditions of the Bonds”) on different issue dates. The specific terms of each Tranche (which will, save in respect of the issue date, first payment of interest and principal amount of the Tranche, be identical to the terms of the other Tranches of the same Series) will be completed in the applicable Pricing Supplement.

In relation to the Pricing Supplement for any Series or Tranche of Bonds, this Base Admission Document must be read and construed together with the relevant Pricing Supplement. Each Series or Tranche of Bonds will be issued on the terms set out herein under “Terms and Conditions of the Bonds” as completed in the applicable Pricing Supplement.

2. Summary of the Use of Proceeds

Dozens Savings will transfer the proceeds of each Tranche of Bonds to an account (the “Secured Account”) which will be subject to a charge in favour of a trustee appointed to protect the interests of the holders of Bonds. Under the terms of the charge, the monies held in the Secured Account will be used to secure repayment of the principal and payment of interest on the Bonds as described directly below in the paragraph entitled “Security”.

3. Form of Bonds and Transferability

The Bonds are constituted by a trust deed (the “Trust Deed”) under which U.S. Bank Trustees Limited (the “Trustee”) is appointed trustee. The Bonds will be issued in uncertificated form and will be freely transferable. The Company has made arrangements for the electronic settlement of the Bonds through the CREST electronic system.

If a Bondholder wishes to sell Bonds before their maturity date, or ceases to be a customer of Project Imagine Ltd (“Project Imagine”), Dozens Savings’ parent company, Project Imagine has agreed to purchase their Bonds at par. Selling Bondholders will not receive any interest payment for the month in which those Bonds are sold (or any subsequent interest payments). Project Imagine will then either hold the Bonds purchased to their maturity date and receive all the remaining relevant payments of interest or, at Project Imagine’s discretion, re-sell the Bonds, if it is lawfully able to do so.

4. Security

The Bonds shall be secured by a charge for the benefit of Bondholders over the cash held in an account (the “Secured Account”) maintained and operated by Elavon Financial Services DAC (“Elavon”). Pursuant to the Trust Deed, the Company must deposit the proceeds of each Tranche of Bonds in such Secured Account at the time the relevant Bonds are issued. For purposes of this Bond Programme, and for the protection of the Bondholders, the Company has committed to maintaining in the Secured Account an amount equal to at least 105% of the principal amount of Bonds then outstanding, other than those held by Project Imagine, provided that amounts corresponding to interest that is paid on the Bonds and the principal amount of the Bonds that is repaid shall be released from the Secured Account in accordance with the Security Deed. The Directors believe that the amounts held in the Secured Account assure Bondholders that payments under the Bonds will be made and that the Company will have sufficient working capital to maintain the 105% ratio during the lifetime of the Bond Programme.

The payment obligation in respect of the Bonds will be secured by a first fixed charge over the cash held in the Secured Account. The cash amount held in the Secured Account will be reduced in proportion to payments made to Bondholders under the Bonds: as each interest payment is made and upon repayment of the principal amount on the maturity date. Also, if Project Imagine acquires Bonds, the relevant amount of cash representing the principal amount and interest outstanding on those Bonds will be released from the Secured Account. If Project Imagine sells Bonds, the Company has undertaken to transfer into the Secured Account an amount equal to the principal amount repayable and interest payable on those Bonds.

The Bonds shall be secured by the Secured Account. In this way, the Directors intend that Bondholders will have the benefit of a first, fixed charge over a cash deposit whose value, as specified above, will always be equivalent to no less than the aggregate principal amount repayable and interest payable on the Bonds then outstanding, other than those held by Project Imagine.

Part III – Risk Factors

The risks referred to below are those risks the Directors consider to be the material risks relating to the Company and/or the Group. However, there may be additional risks that the Directors do not currently consider to be material or of which the Directors are not currently aware that may adversely affect the Company's and/or the Group's business, financial condition, results of operations or prospects. Prospective investors should review this Document carefully and in its entirety and consult with their professional advisers before acquiring any Bonds. If any of the risks referred to in this Document were to occur, the operations, financial condition and/or prospects of the Company and/or the Group could be materially adversely affected. If that were to be the case, the value of the Bonds could decline significantly. Further, investors could lose all or part of their investment.

RISKS RELATING TO THE BUSINESS OF THE COMPANY

Risks associated with the Group's business strategy

The Company relies on Project Imagine, its holding company, for various services, including personnel, operational support and general resources, as described on page 17 under the heading "Relationship between Dozens Savings and Project Imagine". Project Imagine is a recently formed entity with limited operating history. There is accordingly no guarantee that the business of Project Imagine will be successful or that it will be able to provide sufficient support to the Company in the future. Accordingly, if the Company is required to seek additional personnel, operational support and general resources for future expansion of its operations, the Company may not receive sufficient support from Project Imagine in this regard. If the Company requires additional funding in the future (other than by the issue of Bonds), Project Imagine may be unable to provide this and (a) new equity investors may be unwilling to invest on terms that are favourable to the Company or at all; and (b) lenders may be unwilling to extend debt financing to the Company on attractive terms, or at all. To the extent that additional equity or debt financing is necessary to expand its operations and such financing remains unavailable or only available on terms that are unacceptable to the Company, the Company may be constrained in the development of its operations.

Competition may limit Project Imagine's operations and profits

The industry in which the Company's corporate parent, Project Imagine Ltd, operates—finance and technology—is characterised by heavy competition and as a result of this the Company suffers the risk that Project Imagine may not be sufficiently profitable to provide the support required to maintain or improve the Company's financial condition. In addition, Project Imagine may not be able to attract customers wishing to subscribe for Bonds up to the anticipated amount, or at all.

Although the Directions do not believe such contingencies would materially impair the repayment of the Bonds with interest—the principal and interest being secured by the Secured Account—they would nevertheless impair the Company's value.

The Group will be reliant on software developers and programmers for operational support

The Group relies on in-house and third-party suppliers, in certain cases sole suppliers or a limited number of suppliers, to maintain and enhance its software and support necessary for the implementation and operation of the dozens Mobile App. In particular, as at the date of this Document, Project Imagine sources a significant portion of its technology from individuals and/or software development companies based outside the UK. If Project Imagine's IT-support providers (or any other provider, from time to time) were to cease, suspend or limit their development or maintenance of Project Imagine's technology, or adversely modify supply terms or pricing, the availability of the Group's products and its ability to successfully implement its services and products may be materially impaired.

Any disruptions to these supply arrangements could temporarily jeopardise the Group's ability to operate the dozens Mobile App, which could materially and adversely affect the Group's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects and its ability to distribute the Bonds.

The technology utilised by the Group may become obsolete

The business of the Group will rely upon technology, including the dozens Mobile App, to help deliver high-quality investing experience. Like any company using technology, the Group is at risk from developments that make the technology it utilises obsolete or less attractive. The Group's inability to offer technology that is desirable to its investors or prospective investors, such as an attractive, intuitive user interface, could consequently limit the Group's ability to retain existing customers and attract new ones.

Technical obsolescence could adversely affect the Group's ability to generate revenue and negatively impact its operating results.

The Group may be unable to retain or hire appropriately skilled personnel required to support the operations of the Group

The success of the Group will be dependent on retaining, developing, motivating and communication with senior management and personnel and as the business grows on recruiting appropriately skilled, competent people at all levels, particularly those with experience with consumer finance, technology, regulation and branding. The shortages in the availability of appropriately skilled personnel in these areas may have a negative effect on the Group. The members of the Group's management team are expected to contribute to its ability to obtain, generate and manage opportunities. If the Group is not able to attract, retain and motivate such personnel successfully, the Group may not be able to maintain standards of service or continue to grow its businesses as anticipated.

The loss of such personnel, or the inability to attract, retain, motivate and communicate with additional skilled employees required for their activities within an affordable cost base, could have an adverse effect on the Group's business and prospects.

Force Majeure

The Group's operations now or in the future may be adversely affected by risks outside the control of the Group including labour unrest, war, civil disorder, subversive activities or sabotage, fires, floods, explosions, or other catastrophes, epidemics or quarantine restrictions.

RISKS RELATING TO THE STRUCTURE OF THE BONDS

The Bonds may not be a suitable investment for all investors

Each potential investor in the Bonds must determine the suitability of that investment in light of his or her own circumstances. In particular, each potential investor should:

1. have sufficient knowledge and experience to make a meaningful evaluation of the Bonds, the merits and risks of investing in the Bonds and the information contained or incorporated by reference in this Document and any applicable Pricing Supplement;
2. have access to, and knowledge of, appropriate analytical tools to evaluate, in the context of his or her particular financial situation, an investment in the Bonds and the impact the Bonds will have on his or her overall investment portfolio;
3. have sufficient financial resources and liquidity to bear all of the risks of an investment in the Bonds, including where the currency for principal and interest payments is different from the potential investor's currency;
4. understand thoroughly the terms of the Bonds and be familiar with the behaviour of any relevant financial markets; and
5. be able to evaluate (either alone or with the help of a financial adviser) possible scenarios for economic, interest rate and other factors that may affect his or her investment and his or her ability to bear the applicable risks.

The Trustee may act on behalf of Bondholders or may decide to refrain from acting on behalf of Bondholders

The terms of the Trust Deed provide that the Trustee may, without the consent of Bondholders and subject to the provisions of the Trust Deed, agree to any modification of, or to the waiver or authorisation of any breach of any of the provisions of, the Trust Deed or the Security Deed which is (in the opinion of the Trustee) not materially prejudicial to the interests of the Bondholders or is of a formal, minor or technical nature or which is made to correct a manifest error. In addition, the Trustee may not take action to enforce the terms of the Trust Deed and/or the Security Deed, if it is not indemnified and/or secured and/or prefunded to its satisfaction.

Investors may not be able to realise returns on their investment in Bonds within a period that they would consider to be reasonable

Notwithstanding the designation of Thomas Grant and Company Ltd as the Company's designated market maker, as disclosed in the section of this Document entitled "Material Contracts" beginning on page 43, investments in the Bonds may be illiquid. There may be a limited number of Bondholders and this factor and the lack of other potential purchasers may make it difficult or impossible for an investor to sell or otherwise transfers his investment in the Bonds to another person or entity. Accordingly, investors should not expect that they will necessarily be able to realise their investment in the Bonds within a period that they would regard as reasonable. Accordingly, the Bonds may not be suitable for short-term investment. Admission of the Bonds onto the NEX Exchange Growth Market should not be taken as implying that there will be an active trading market for the Bonds. Even if an active trading market develops, the market price for the Bonds may fall below the issue price. In order to address this concern, Project Imagine has agreed to purchase Bonds at par as described in this Document under the heading “Form of Bonds and Transferability” on page 9.

RISKS RELATING TO TAXATION

The levels of, and reliefs from, taxation may change. Any change in the Company’s tax status or in taxation legislation in the United Kingdom or any other tax jurisdiction affecting Bondholders could affect the return on, and value of, the Bonds or affect the Company’s ability to achieve its objective or alter the post-tax returns to Bondholders. If you are in any doubt as to your tax position, you should consult your own professional adviser without delay.

Any change (including a change in interpretation) in tax legislation or accounting practice in the United Kingdom could have a material adverse effect on the Group’s business, financial condition, results of operations, future prospects or the value of the Bonds. Changes to tax legislation could include the imposition of new taxes or increases in tax rates in the United Kingdom.

2. Introduction to Project Imagine

Project Imagine’s vision is of an easy and accessible financial future for all, one that is built on a keen interest in people and their behaviour, not just numbers and statistics.

The FCA has granted Project Imagine an e-money licence and an investment licence, enabling it to offer both execution only and portfolio management services.

Project Imagine is looking beyond the traditional financial structures and revenue lines to build a financial management alternative that does better by its customers, helping customers save seamlessly, rather than just spend. The terms of the Services Agreement do not require Dozens Savings to pay Project Imagine for its services.

Although Project Imagine has received authorisation with the FCA, it is not currently planned that Dozens Savings will apply for a separate authorisation, as issuance of bonds is not a FSMA regulated activity. Project Imagine, as a regulated entity authorised by the FCA, would be able to provide consultation and section 21 FSMA sign-off for any marketing and promotional materials produced by Dozens Savings.

4. Use of Proceeds

The Company will transfer the proceeds of each Tranche of Bonds to the Secured Account, where they will be used to secure repayment of the principal and payment of interest on the Bonds.

- 12.3 No Registered Bondholder shall be entitled to (i) take any steps or action against the Company to enforce the performance of any of the provisions of the Trust Deed or the Security Deed or (ii) take any other action (including lodging an appeal in any proceedings) in respect of or concerning the Company, in each case unless the Trustee, having become bound so to take any such steps, actions or proceedings, fails so to do within a reasonable period and the failure shall be continuing.

13. NOTICES

13.1 To Registered Bondholders

A notice to be given to a Registered Bondholder regarding the Bonds will be deemed to be validly given if sent by first class pre-paid letter to the Registered Bondholder at their address entered in the Register or the Electronic Record, as appropriate, or by means of electronic communication if a Registered Bondholder has provided electronic communication details. Any such notice will be deemed to have been given on the date two days after the date of despatch of such letter or on the same day in the case of electronic transmission. The Company shall also ensure that a notice is duly published in a manner which complies with the rules of any stock exchange or other relevant authority on which the Bonds are for the time being listed or by which they have been admitted to trading. If publication as provided above is not practicable, a notice shall be validly given if published in The Times, The Daily Telegraph or the Guardian. In addition, a Registered Bondholder is taken to have agreed that the Company may send or supply documents or information to him by making them available on its website at www.dozens.com, if the Bondholder has been asked individually by the Company to agree that the Company may send or supply documents or information generally, or the documents or information in question, to him by means of a website, and the Company has not received a response within the period of 28 days beginning with the day on which the Company's request was sent.

13.2 From Registered Bondholders

Notice to be given by any Registered Bondholder shall be in writing and will be deemed to be validly given if sent by first class pre-paid letter to the then-current registered office of the Registrar.

14. MEETINGS OF REGISTERED BONDHOLDERS, MODIFICATION AND WAIVER

14.1 Meetings of Registered Bondholders

The Trust Deed contains provisions for convening meetings of the Registered Bondholders to consider any matter affecting their interests, including the sanctioning by Extraordinary Resolution of a modification of any of the provisions of the Trust Deed (including these Conditions) or the Security Deed. Such a meeting may be convened by the Company or the Trustee and shall be convened by the Trustee if requested in writing by Registered Bondholders holding not less than 10 per cent of the principal amount of the Bonds then outstanding.

The quorum at any such meeting (including any meeting the business of which includes a Reserved Matter) for passing an Extraordinary Resolution is one or more persons holding or representing in aggregate at least 75 per cent of the principal amount of the Bonds then outstanding, or at any adjourned meeting one or more persons holding or representing in aggregate at least 75 per cent of the principal amount of the Bonds then outstanding.

The Trust Deed defines "Extraordinary Resolution" as a resolution expressed as such and passed at a duly convened meeting of the Registered Bondholders by a majority consisting of not less than 75 per cent of the persons voting at such meeting upon a show of hands or if a poll is duly demanded by a majority consisting of not less than 75 per cent of the votes given on such poll. An Extraordinary Resolution passed by the Registered Bondholders is binding on all the Registered Bondholders, whether or not they are present at any meeting and whether or not they voted on the resolution.

14.2 A resolution in writing signed by or on behalf of Registered Bondholders holding not less than 75 per cent of the principal amount of the Bonds then outstanding or a consent given by way of electronic consents through the relevant clearing system(s) (in a form satisfactory to the Trustee) by or on behalf of Registered Bondholders holding not less than 75 per cent of the principal amount of the Bonds then outstanding, shall, in each case, be as valid and effective as an Extraordinary Resolution passed at a meeting of the Registered Bondholders.

14.3 Modification, Waiver, Authorisation and Determination

The Trust Deed provides that the Trustee may agree, without the consent or sanction of the Registered Bondholders, and without prejudice to its rights in respect of any subsequent breach, event, act, Event of Default or Potential Event of Default, to any modification of, or to the waiver or authorisation of any breach or proposed breach of, any of the provisions of the Trust Deed (including these Conditions), the Security Deed or any other agreement relating to the Bonds to which the Trustee is a party, or determine, without any such consent or sanction as aforesaid, that any Potential Event of Default or Event of Default shall not be treated as such, where, in any such case, it is not, in the opinion of the Trustee, materially prejudicial to the interests of the Registered Bondholders so to do or may agree, without any such consent or sanction as aforesaid, to any such modification which, in the opinion of the Trustee, is of a formal, minor or technical nature or necessary to correct a manifest error. Any such modification, waiver, authorisation or determination shall be recorded in writing and may be given or made on such terms and subject to such conditions (if any) as the Trustee may determine fit and proper, shall be binding on the Registered Bondholders and shall be notified to the Registered Bondholders in accordance with the notice provisions of the Trust Deed as soon as practicable thereafter (unless the Trustee determines such notice is unnecessary).

14.4 Trustee to have regard to interests of Registered Bondholders as a class

In connection with the exercise by it of any of its trusts, powers, authorities and discretions (including, without limitation, any modification, waiver, authorisation, determination or substitution), the Trustee shall: (i) have regard to the general interests of the Registered Bondholders (including where appropriate the Registered Bondholders holding Bonds of a particular Series) as a class (but shall not have regard to any interests arising from circumstances particular to individual Registered Bondholders whatever their number) and, in particular but without limitation, shall not have regard to the consequences of any such exercise for individual Registered Bondholders (whatever their number) resulting from their being for any purpose domiciled or resident in, or otherwise connected with, or subject to the jurisdiction of, any particular territory or any political sub-division thereof and the Trustee shall not be entitled to require, nor shall any Registered Bondholder be entitled to claim, from the Company, the Trustee or any other person, any indemnification or payment in respect of any tax consequences of any such exercise upon any individual Registered Bondholder and (ii) shall not be required to have regard to the interests of any other secured parties.

15. INDEMNIFICATION OF THE TRUSTEE AND TRUSTEE CONTRACTING WITH THE COMPANY

The Trust Deed and the Security Deed contain provisions for the indemnification of the Trustee and for its relief from responsibility, including provisions relieving it from taking action unless secured and/or indemnified and/or prefunded to its satisfaction.

The Trust Deed also contains provisions pursuant to which the Trustee is entitled, inter alia, (a) to enter into or be interested in any contract or financial or other transaction or arrangement with the Company or Project Imagine or any of their subsidiaries and (b) to accept or hold the trusteeship of any other trust deed constituting or securing any other securities issued by or relating to the Company or Project Imagine or any of their subsidiaries.

The Trustee shall not be bound to take any step or action in connection with the Trust Deed, the Security Deed or the Bonds or obligations arising pursuant thereto, where it is not satisfied that it is indemnified and/or secured against all its Liabilities incurred in connection with such step or action and may demand, prior to taking any such step or action, that there be paid to it in advance such sums as it considers (without prejudice to any further demand) shall be sufficient so as to indemnify it.

The Trustee shall have no responsibility for the validity, sufficiency or enforceability of the security provided under the Security Deed.

16. FURTHER BONDS

The Trust Deed provides that the Company has the power, without the consent of the Trustee or the Registered Bondholders, to create and issue further Bonds ranking pari passu with the Bonds initially issued and carrying the same rights in all respects as such Bonds other than the issue date from which interest first accrues and forming one class with such Bonds. The Trust Deed further provides that the Company has the power, without the consent of the Trustee or the Registered Bondholders, to create and issue further Bonds subject to these terms and conditions and completed by the relevant Pricing Supplement published by the Company at the time they are issued. Bonds with the same Maturity Date shall form one series and class (each a “Series”). The Company is not permitted to issue any further Bond that is expressed to be and to rank senior in point of security to other Bonds. Each Series may be issued in tranches on the same or different issue dates (each a “Tranche”). The specific terms of each Tranche (which, save in respect of the issue date, first payment of interest and principal amount of the Tranche, will be identical to the terms of the other Tranches of the same Series) will be completed in the relevant Pricing Supplement.

17. CONTRACTS (RIGHTS OF THIRD PARTIES) ACT 1999

No person other than the Trustee shall have any right to enforce these Conditions under the Contracts (Rights of Third Parties) Act 1999, but this does not affect any right or remedy of any person which exists or is available apart from that Act.

18. GOVERNING LAW

- 1.2. The Company was incorporated in the United Kingdom as a public limited company on 18 September 2018 with registered number 11575749.
- 1.3. The domicile of the Company is England. The Company's website address is www.dozens.com. 2. Investments

- 2.1. As the Company is a new enterprise (as that term is defined by NEX Exchange Rules) it does not have any investments in progress. Nor does the Company expect to make any investments in the first 12 months from the date of this Document. The Company's use of the proceeds of subscriptions for the Bonds is described in the section entitled "Use of Proceeds" beginning on page 17 of this Document.

3. Business Overview

- 3.1. As of the date of this Document, Dozens Savings does not have any existing operations and was established to enable customers of Project Imagine to subscribe for Bonds. Accordingly, in the 12 months from the date of this Document, the Directors intend that Dozens Savings will help Project Imagine pursue its aim of creating an improved, second-generation financial management alternative—disrupting banking and money problems via a solution that enables users to pursue a simple and equitable financial future. Dozens Savings' role in particular is to offer Project Imagine's customers the ability to invest in listed, retail bonds on attractive terms. Additional information concerning Dozens Savings, Project Imagine and the relationship between the two entities, including the Services Agreement entered into between them, begins on page 17 of this Document in the part entitled "Overview of Dozens Savings plc and its Business".

Dozens Savings' business is funded by the amount of £300,000 in cash subscribed for its Ordinary Shares by Project Imagine. It is anticipated that this will provide the Company with sufficient working capital for the Bond Programme, given the Company's commitment that it will not issue Bonds, if it will not have sufficient funds to maintain the 105% ratio. Dozens Savings relies on a Services Agreement under which Project Imagine agrees to provide Dozens Savings with such operational support as Dozens Savings may reasonably require, including a licence to use the brand "dozens", to conduct its business and maintain its admission of Bonds on the NEX Exchange Growth Market. Further information concerning the Services Agreement begins on page 17 of this Document in the section entitled "Relationship between Dozens Savings and Project Imagine".

There are no other material patents, licences, industrial, commercial or financial contracts or new manufacturing processes on which Dozens Savings relies for its profitability.

- 3.2. The Company makes no statement in this Document regarding its competitive position.
- 3.3. Dozens Savings' directors have significant experience in the financial markets generally and in investments in particular, all as detailed in their respective biographies, which begin on page 30 of this Document in the section entitled "Director Biographies".

4. Organisational Structure

- 4.1. The Company is the wholly-owned subsidiary of Project Imagine Ltd. Project Imagine has no other subsidiaries.
- 4.2. The Company has no subsidiaries. Dozens Savings has been established to enable customers of Project Imagine to subscribe for the Bonds. A detailed description of the nature of Dozens Savings's operations and its principal activities appears in the section of this Document entitled "Overview of Dozens Savings plc and its Business", which begins on page 17.

5. Research and Development, Patents and Licences

- 5.1. Whilst the Company's corporate parent, Project Imagine, has undertaken significant research and development activities, including activities which the Directors believe will enable the Company to operate efficiently and effectively, the Company itself does not conduct research and development. The Company is able to benefit from the activities of Project Imagine and exploit the intellectual property created and owned by Project Imagine by virtue of the Services Agreement, the material terms of which are detailed beginning on page 17 of this Document in the section entitled "Relationship between Dozens Savings and Project Imagine".

6. Trend Information

- 6.1. Increasing financial technology, or fintech, activity is taking place across the financial services sector. As pointed out in HM Treasury's March 2018 white paper entitled 'Fintech Sector Strategy: Securing the Future of UK Fintech' the sector has now grown from its disruptive roots into an industry in its own right.¹

In their 2015 report 'UK Fintech on the Cutting Edge', EY estimated that the UK fintech sector represented around £6.6bn of revenue in 2015, and attracted around £524m in investment. The report also highlighted that with around 61,000 people employed in the sector (around 5% of the total financial services workforce), more people work in UK fintech than in New York fintech or in the combined fintech workforce of Singapore, Hong Kong and Japan.²

The 2017 UK Fintech Census, commissioned at the first International Fintech Conference in March of that year, showed that the sector continues to grow from this position of strength: average revenue for fintech firms in the UK grew by 22% from 2014 to 2016.³

Clearly, the fintech is a large and growing sector and the Directors believe that the Group stands to benefit from these trends in the 12 months from the date of this Document.

13. Legal and Arbitration Proceedings

15. Working Capital Statement

15.1. In the opinion of the Directors, having made due and careful enquiry, the working capital available to the Company will be sufficient for the period of at least twelve months following the Admission of the Initial Bonds.

16. Share Capital

16.1. The Company has a single class of shares, namely, Ordinary Shares.

16.2. As of the date of this Document, the Company has issued 300,000 Ordinary Shares.

16.3. As of the date of this Document, the Directors are not authorised to issue any further Ordinary Shares.

16.6. All of the Company's shares represent capital; it has no shares that do not represent capital.

16.7. The Company has not issued any convertible securities, exchangeable securities or securities with warrants.

17. Memorandum and Articles of Association

The Articles contain (among others) provisions to the following effect:

17.1. Objects

The objects of the Company, in accordance with section 31(1) of the Act, are unrestricted.

17.2. Limited liability

The liability of the members is limited to the amount, if any, unpaid on the shares in the Company respectively held by them.

17.3. Share rights and authority to allot

Subject to the Act (and in this paragraph 17, references to the “Act” shall, where appropriate, include the Companies Act 1985 and, where the context requires, every other statute from time to time in force concerning companies and affecting the Company) and rights attached to existing shares, shares may be issued with such rights and restrictions as the Company may by ordinary resolution determine, or (if there is no such resolution or so far as it does not make specific provision) as the Board may determine. Redeemable shares may be issued. Subject to the Act, the Articles and any relevant authority of the Company in general meeting required by the Act, unissued shares are at the disposal of the Board.

At the date of this Document, the Directors are not authorised by the Articles or Shareholders to allot shares or to grant rights to subscribe shares.

17.4. Voting rights

Subject to any rights or restrictions attaching to any class of shares, every member present in person or by proxy at a general meeting or class meeting has, upon a show of hands, one vote, and every member present in person or by proxy has, upon a poll, one vote for every share held by him.

In the case of joint holders of a share the vote of the senior who tenders a vote, whether in person or by proxy, shall be accepted to the exclusion of the votes of the other joint holders and, for this purpose, seniority shall be determined by the order in which the names stand in the register of members (“register”) in respect of the joint holding.

17.5. Restrictions

No member shall, unless the Board otherwise determines, be entitled in respect of a share held by him or her to vote at a general meeting or meeting of the holders of any class of shares of the Company either personally or by proxy or to exercise any other right or privilege conferred by membership, if any call or other sum presently payable by him or her to the Company in respect of such share remains unpaid.

If a Shareholder, or any other person appearing to be interested in shares held by that Shareholder, fails to provide the information requested in a notice given to him or her under section 793 of the Act by the Company in relation to his or her interest in shares (the “Default Shares”) within 28 days of the notice (or, where the Default Shares represent at least 0.25 per cent, of their class, 14 days of the notice), sanctions shall apply, unless the Directors determine otherwise. The sanctions available are the suspension in respect of the Default Shares of the right to attend or vote (whether in person or by representative or proxy) at any general meeting or any separate meeting of the holders of any class of share or on any poll and, where the Default Shares represent at least 0.25 per cent of their class (excluding treasury shares), the withholding of any dividend payable in respect of those shares and the restriction of the transfer of any shares (subject to certain exceptions).

17.6. Dividends and other distributions

The Company may by ordinary resolution from time to time declare dividends not exceeding the amount recommended by the Board. Subject to the Act, the Board may pay interim dividends, including any fixed rate dividend, whenever the profits of the Company appear to the Board to justify it. If the Board acts in good faith, it is not liable to holders of shares with preferred or pari passu rights for losses arising from the payment of interim dividends on other shares. There are currently no fixed dates for the payment of dividends.

The Board may withhold payment of all or any part of any dividends or other moneys payable in respect of the Company’s shares from a person with a 0.25 per cent interest in shares of a particular class, after failure to provide the Company with information concerning interests in those shares required to be provided under the Act.

Except insofar as the rights attaching to, or the terms of issue of, any share otherwise provide, all dividends shall be declared and paid and apportioned according to the amounts paid up (otherwise than in advance of calls) on the shares on which the dividend is paid during any portion of the period in respect of which the dividend is paid, except that if any share is issued on terms providing that it shall rank for dividend as from a particular date such share shall rank for dividend accordingly. Except as set out above, dividends may be declared or paid in any currency.

The Board may, if authorised by an ordinary resolution of the Company, offer ordinary Shareholders (excluding any member holding shares as treasury shares) in respect of any dividend the right to elect to receive Ordinary Shares by way of scrip dividend instead of cash. Any dividend unclaimed after a period of 12 years from the date when it was declared or became due for payment shall (if the Board so resolves) be forfeited and revert to the Company.

The Company may stop sending dividends or other monies payable in respect of a share if either (i) at least two consecutive payments have remained uncashed or are returned undelivered or (ii) one payment remains uncashed or is returned undelivered, and reasonable inquiries have failed to establish any new address to be used. The Company may resume sending dividends or other monies payable if the holder notifies the Company of an address to be used for that purpose.

On a winding up, the liquidator may, with the sanction of a special resolution of the Company and any other sanction required by law, divide among the members (without taking account of any shares held as treasury shares) in kind all or part of the assets of the Company (whether they shall consist of property of the same kind or not) and, for that purpose, set such values as the liquidator deems fair upon any property to be divided and determine how the division shall be carried out as between the members or different classes of members, or vest the whole or any part of the assets in trustees upon such trusts for the benefit of members as the liquidator, with the like sanction, shall decide, but no member shall be compelled to accept any asset upon which there is any liability.

17.7. Variation of rights

Subject to the Act, rights attached to any class of shares may be varied or abrogated with the written consent of the holders of not less than three-fourths in nominal value of the issued shares of that class (calculated by excluding any shares held as treasury shares), or with the sanction of a special resolution passed at a separate general meeting of the holders of those shares. At every such separate general meeting (except an adjourned meeting) the quorum shall be two persons holding or representing by proxy not less than one-third of the paid up nominal value of the issued shares of the class (calculated by excluding any shares held as treasury shares).

The rights conferred upon the holders of any shares shall not, unless otherwise expressly provided in the rights attaching to those shares, be deemed to be varied by the creation or issue of further shares ranking pari passu with them.

17.8. Transfer of shares

The shares are in registered form. Any shares in the Company may be held in uncertificated form and, subject to the Articles, title to uncertificated shares may be transferred by means of a relevant system (as defined in the Articles). Provisions of the Articles do not apply to any uncertificated shares to the extent that such provisions are inconsistent with the holding of shares in uncertificated form or with the transfer of shares by means of a relevant system. No shares are currently held in uncertificated form.

Subject to the Articles, any member may transfer all or any of his or her certificated shares by an instrument of transfer in any usual form or in any other form which the Board may approve. The instrument of transfer must be executed by or on behalf of the transferor and (in the case of a partly-paid share) the transferee.

The transferor of a share is deemed to remain the holder until the transferee's name is entered in the register.

The Board may, in its absolute discretion (but subject to any rules or regulations of any stock exchange, market or trading platform applicable to the Company from time to time), decline to register any transfer of any certificated share which is not a fully paid share or on which the Company has a lien. The Board may also decline to register a transfer of a certificated share unless the instrument of transfer:

- (a) is duly stamped or certified or otherwise shown to the satisfaction of the Board to be exempt from stamp duty (if that is required) and is accompanied by the relevant share certificate and such other evidence of the right to transfer as the Board may reasonably require;
- (b) is in respect of only one class of share; and

- (c) if to joint transferees, is in favour of not more than four such transferees.

The Board may decline to register a transfer of any of the Company's certificated shares by a person with a 0.25 per cent interest after failure to provide the Company with information concerning interests in those shares required to be provided under the Act, unless the transfer is an excepted transfer (as defined in the Articles) or the person is not himself in default as regards supplying the information requested, and proves to the satisfaction of the Board that no person in default as regards supplying such information is interested in any of the shares which are the subject of the transfer.

17.9. Alteration of share capital

The Company may by ordinary resolution increase, consolidate and divide, or (subject to the Act) sub-divide its shares or any of them. The Company may, subject to the Act, by special resolution confirmed by the court reduce its share capital.

17.10. General meetings

Subject to the provisions of the Act, an annual general meeting shall be called by not less than twenty-one clear days' notice in writing. All other general meetings shall be called by not less than fourteen clear days' notice in writing.

The notice must specify the place, day and time of the meeting and the general nature of the business to be transacted and the text of resolutions to be considered.

Notices shall be given to the auditors of the Company and the Directors and to all members other than any who are not entitled to receive such notice. Notice may be via electronic communication and publication on a website in accordance with the Act.

If there are two or more Shareholders, two Shareholders present in person or by proxy and entitled to attend and to vote on the business to be transacted at a general meeting shall be a quorum. If there is only one Shareholder, one person entitled to vote on the business to be transacted, being the Shareholder or a proxy for the Shareholder or a duly authorised representative of a corporation which is the Shareholder, shall be a quorum. Each Director shall be entitled to attend and speak at any general meeting or class meeting. The chairman of the meeting may invite any person to attend and speak at any general meeting or class meeting.

The Board may direct that persons wishing to attend any general meeting should provide evidence of identity and submit to such searches or other security arrangements or restrictions as the Board shall consider appropriate in the circumstances and shall be entitled in its absolute discretion to authorise one or more persons who shall include a director or the secretary or the chairman of the meeting to, refuse entry to, or to eject from, such general meeting any person who fails to provide such evidence of identity or to submit to such searches or otherwise to comply with such security arrangements or restrictions, or who causes the meeting to become disorderly.

17.11. Directors

(a) Number of Directors

The Directors shall be not less than two in number. The Company may by ordinary resolution vary the minimum and/or maximum number of Directors.

(b) Directors' shareholding qualification

A Director shall not be required to hold any shares in the Company.

(c) Appointment of directors

Directors may be appointed by the Company by ordinary resolution or by the Board. A Director appointed by the Board holds office only until the next following annual general meeting of the Company and is then eligible for election by Shareholders.

The Board or any committee authorised by the Board may from time to time appoint one or more Directors to hold any employment or executive office for such period (subject to the provisions of the Act) and on such terms as they may determine and may also revoke or terminate any such appointment.

(d) Retirement of Directors

At each annual general meeting of the Company any Director then in office who has been appointed by the Board since the previous annual general meeting shall retire from office but shall be eligible for re-appointment. Subject to the provisions of the Articles, at the meeting at which a Director retires the Company can pass an ordinary resolution to re-elect the Director or to elect some other eligible person in his or her place.

(e) Removal of Directors by ordinary resolution

The Company may by ordinary resolution of which special notice is given remove any Director before the expiration of his or her period of office.

(f) Vacation of office

The office of a Director shall be vacated if:

- (i) (not being an executive Director holding office for a fixed term) he or she resigns his or her office by notice in writing delivered to the registered office of the Company or other address specified by the Company or submitted to a meeting of the Board or (being an executive Director holding office for a fixed term) his or her resignation in writing is accepted by the Board;
- (ii) a registered medical practitioner who is treating that person gives a written opinion to the Company stating that that person has become physically or mentally incapable of acting as a Director and may remain so for more than three months;
- (iii) without leave, he or she is absent from meetings of the Board (whether or not any alternate Director appointed by him or her attends) for six consecutive months, and all the other Directors serve notice that his or her office is vacated;
- (iv) he becomes bankrupt or makes any arrangement or composition with his or her creditors generally;
- (v) he is removed from office pursuant to the Articles or is removed or ceases to be a Director by virtue of any provision of the Act or prohibited by law from being a Director;
- (vi) being an executive Director, he or she ceases to be the holder of executive office; or
- (vii) all the other Directors unanimously request him or her to resign as a Director.

If the office of a Director is vacated for any reason, he or she must cease to be a member of any committee or sub-committee of the Board.

(g) Alternate director

Any Director may appoint any person to be his or her alternate and may at his or her discretion remove such an alternate Director. If the alternate Director is not already a Director, the appointment, unless previously approved by the Board, shall have effect only upon and subject to being so approved.

(h) Proceedings of the Board

The quorum necessary for the transaction of the business of the Board may be fixed by the Board and, unless so fixed at any other number, shall be two. A meeting of the Board at which a quorum is present shall be competent to exercise all the powers, authorities and discretions vested in or exercisable by the Board.

The Board may appoint a Director to be the chairman or a deputy chairman. Questions arising at any meeting of the Board shall be determined by a majority of votes, in the case of an equality of votes the chairman of the meeting shall have a second or casting vote (unless not entitled to vote on the resolution in question).

All or any of the members of the Board may participate in a meeting of the Board by means of a conference telephone or any communication equipment which allows all persons participating in the meeting to speak to and hear each other. A person so participating shall be deemed to be present at the meeting and shall be entitled to vote and to be counted in the quorum.

The Board may delegate any of its powers, authorities and discretions (with power to sub delegate) to any committee, consisting of such person or persons as it thinks fit, provided that the majority of persons on any committee must be Directors. All committees of the Board shall, in the exercise of the powers delegated to them and in the transaction of business, conform with any mode of proceedings and regulations which the Board may prescribe and subject to that shall be governed by such of the provisions of the Articles as regulate the proceedings of the Board as are capable of applying.

(i) Remuneration of Directors

Each of the Directors shall be paid a fee at such rate as may from time to time be determined by the Board, but the aggregate of all such fees so paid to the Directors (other than amounts payable under any other provision of the Articles) shall not exceed £100,000 per annum or such higher amount as may from time to time be decided by ordinary resolution of the Company. The salary or remuneration of any Director appointed to hold any employment or executive office in accordance with the Articles may be either a fixed sum of money, or may altogether or in part be governed by business done or profits made or otherwise determined by the Board, and may be in addition to or instead of any fee payable to him or her for serving as Director under the Articles. If by arrangement with the Board any Director shall perform or render any special duties or services outside his or her ordinary duties as a Director and not in his or her capacity as a holder of employment or executive office, he or she may be paid such reasonable additional remuneration (whether by way of salary, commission, participation in profits or otherwise) as the Board may determine. Each Director may be paid reasonable travelling, hotel and other expenses properly incurred by him or her in or about the performance of their duties as Director, including any expenses incurred in attending meetings of the Board or any committee of the Board or general meetings or separate meetings of the holders of any class of shares or debentures of the Company. The Company may also fund a Director's expenditure on defending proceedings (whether civil or criminal) as provided in the Act, or in connection with any application for relief from liability made by a Director in accordance with the Act.

(j) Pensions and gratuities for Directors

The Board may exercise all the powers of the Company to provide pensions or other retirement or superannuation benefits and to provide death or disability benefits or other allowances or gratuities for any person who is or has at any time been a Director or employee of the Company or a group company (or allied or associated company) or a predecessor in business of the Company or group company and, in each case, for any member of his or her family (including a spouse or former spouse) and any person who is or was dependent on him or her, but no benefits (except those provided for by the Articles) may be granted to or in respect of a Director or former Director who has not been employed by or held an executive office or place of profit under the Company or any of its subsidiaries or their respective predecessors in business without the approval of an ordinary resolution of the Company.

(k) Permitted interests of Directors

Subject to the provisions of the Act, and provided he or she has declared the nature and extent of their interest to the Board as required by the Act, a Director is not disqualified by his or her office from contracting with the Company in any manner, nor is any contract in which he or she is interested liable to be avoided, and any Director who is so interested is not liable to account to the Company for any benefit realised by the contract.

A Director may hold any other office or place of profit with the Company (except as auditor) in conjunction with his or her office of Director and may be paid such remuneration for so doing as the Board may decide. A Director may also be or become a director or other officer of, or otherwise interested in, or contract with, any company in which the Company may be interested and shall not be liable to account to the Company for any benefit received by him, nor shall any such contract be liable to be avoided.

A Director may act by himself or his or her firm in a professional capacity for the Company (otherwise than as auditor) and he or she or his or her firm shall be entitled to remuneration for professional services as if he or she were not a Director.

(l) Restrictions on voting

No Director may vote on or be counted in the quorum in relation to any resolution of the Board concerning his or her own appointment, or the settlement or variation of the terms of his or her own appointment, as the holder of any office or place of profit with the Company or any other company in which the Company is interested. A Director cannot vote or be counted in the quorum on any resolution of the Board relating to any transaction or arrangement with the Company in which the Director has an interest and which may reasonably be regarded as likely to give rise to a conflict of interest but can vote (and be counted in the quorum) on the following:

- (i) any security, guarantee or indemnity for any money or any liability which the Director, or any other person, has lent or obligations the Director or any other person has undertaken at the request, or for the benefit, of the Company or any of its subsidiary undertakings;
- (ii) any security, guarantee or indemnity to any other person for a debt or obligation which is owed by the Company or any of its subsidiary undertakings to that other person, if the Director has taken responsibility for some or all of that debt or obligation. The Director can take this responsibility by giving a guarantee, indemnity or security;
- (iii) a proposal or contract relating to an offer of any shares or debentures or other securities for subscription or purchase by the Company or any of its subsidiary undertakings, if the Director takes part because he or she is a holder of shares, debentures or other securities, or if he or she takes part in the underwriting or sub-underwriting of the offer;
- (iv) any arrangement for the benefit of employees of the Company or any of its subsidiary undertakings which only gives him or her benefits which are also generally given to employees to whom the arrangement relates;
- (v) any arrangement involving any other company, if the Director (together with any person connected with the Director) has an interest of any kind in that company (including an interest by holding any position in that company or by being a shareholder of that company). This does not apply if he or she knows that he or she has a Relevant Interest (as defined in the Articles);
- (vi) a contract relating to insurance which the Company can buy or renew for the benefit of the Directors or a group of people which includes Directors; and
- (vii) a contract relating to a pension, superannuation or similar scheme or a retirement, death, disability benefits scheme or employees' share scheme which gives the Director benefits which are also generally given to the employees to whom the scheme relates.

Subject to the Act, the Company may by ordinary resolution suspend or relax the above provisions to any extent or ratify any contract not duly authorised by reason of a contravention of such provisions.

(m) Borrowing powers

Subject to the Articles and the Act and any directions given by special resolution of the Company, the business of the Company will be managed by the Board who may exercise all the powers of the Company, whether relating to the management of the business of the Company or not. In particular, the Board may exercise all the powers of the Company to borrow money, to indemnify and guarantee, to mortgage or charge any of its undertaking, property, assets (present and future) and uncalled capital, to issue debentures and other securities and to give security for any debt, liability or obligation of the Company or of any third party. The Board must restrict the borrowings of the Company and exercise all voting and other rights or powers of control exercisable by the Company in relation to its subsidiary undertakings (if any) so as to secure that the aggregate amount from time to time outstanding of all borrowings by the Company and its subsidiary undertakings (exclusive of borrowings between them and exclusive of the principal amount of, and interest payable on, bonds, loan notes, loan stock or other debt securities which are admitted to trading or listed on the NEX Exchange Growth Market, the AIM market operated by the London Stock Exchange plc, the Official List of the United Kingdom Listing Authority or any equivalent exchange or trading platform) shall not, without the previous sanction of an ordinary resolution of the Company, exceed £1 million.

(n) Indemnity of Directors

Subject to the provisions of the Act, the Company shall indemnify any Director of the Company against loss or liability and may purchase and maintain for any Director of the Company insurance against loss or liability.

17.12. Untraced shareholders

The Company shall be entitled to sell at the best price reasonably obtainable any share of a member, or any share to which a person is entitled by transmission, if and provided that:

- (i) during the period of 12 years before the date of sending of the notice referred to in the next paragraph no cheque, order or warrant in respect of such share sent by the Company to his or her address on the register or other last known address has been cashed and the Company has received no communications, provided that during such period of 12 years the Company has paid at least three cash dividends and no such dividend has been claimed;
- (ii) on or after expiry of the said period of 12 years, the Company has given notice of its intention to sell such share by sending a notice to the member or other such person at his or her address on the register or other last known address and prior to that the Company must have used reasonable efforts to trace the member or other such person engaging, if considered appropriate a tracing agent and/or giving notice of its intention to sell the share by advertisement in a national newspaper and in a newspaper circulating in the area of the registered address of the member or other such person;
- (iii) during the further period of three months following the date of such notice and prior to the exercise of the power of sale the Company has not received any communication in respect of such share; and
- (iv) the Company has given notice to the operator (if any) of any market on which the relevant share is traded or listed of its intention to make such sale.

To give effect to any such sale of shares, the Board may authorise some person to transfer the shares in question and may enter the name of the transferee in respect of the transferred shares in the Register even if no share certificate has been lodged for such shares and may issue a new certificate to the transferee.

The Company shall account to the member or other such person for the net proceeds of a sale by carrying all monies relating to such sale to a separate account. The Company shall be deemed to be a debtor in respect of such monies, which may either be employed in the business of the Company or invested in such investments as the Board may think fit. No interest shall be payable in respect of such monies and the Company does not have to account for any money earned on them.

17.13. Ownership threshold

There are no provisions in the Articles governing the ownership threshold above which Shareholder ownership must be disclosed, and Shareholders will be required to disclose Shareholder ownership in accordance with the Act and the Disclosure and Transparency Rules, if applicable.

17.14. Squeeze-out

Under the Act, if a person who has made a general offer to acquire shares were to acquire 90 per cent of the shares to which the offer relates and 90 per cent of the voting rights carried by those shares before the expiry of three months from the last day on which the offer can be accepted, it could then compulsorily acquire the remaining ten per cent. It would do so by sending a notice to outstanding Shareholders telling them that it will compulsorily acquire their shares and then, six weeks later, executing a transfer of the outstanding shares in its favour and paying the consideration to the Company, which would hold the consideration on trust for outstanding Shareholders. The consideration offered to the Shareholders whose shares are compulsorily acquired under the Act must, in general, be the same as the consideration that was available under the takeover offer.

17.15. Sell-out

The Act gives minority Shareholders in the Company a right to be bought out in certain circumstances by a person who has made a general offer as described in paragraph 17.14 above. Some aspects do not apply to certain classes of person (such as dealers, certain professional investors and persons connected with the Company) to whom special rules may apply. The United Kingdom tax treatment of prospective Bondholders depends on their individual circumstances and may therefore differ to that set out below or may be subject to change in the future. Prospective Bondholders who are in any doubt over their tax position or may be subject to tax in a jurisdiction other than the United Kingdom, should seek their own professional advice. This summary only deals with the matters expressly set out below.

1. Withholding tax on the Bonds

Interest on the Bonds may usually be paid without withholding or deduction on account of United Kingdom tax. HM Revenue and Customs (“HMRC”) can however require tax to be withheld in limited circumstances. Interest may also be paid without withholding tax or subject to a reduced rate of withholding tax where the Company has received a direction from HMRC in respect of such relief as may be available under the provisions of any relevant double taxation treaty.

2. United Kingdom Income Tax

Interest on the Bonds constitutes United Kingdom source income for tax purposes and, as such, may be subject to income tax even where paid without withholding. However, interest with a United Kingdom source properly received without deduction or withholding on account of United Kingdom tax will not be chargeable to United Kingdom tax in the hands of a Bondholder (other than certain trustees) who is not resident for tax purposes in the United Kingdom other than in certain circumstances where the Bondholder carries on a trade in the UK.

Under the EU Savings Directive, Member States are generally required to provide to the tax authorities of another Member State details of payments of interest paid by a person within its jurisdiction to (or for the benefit of) an individual or certain other entities resident or established in that other Member State.
